Year 11 Update

Dear Parents and Carers,

Following this evening's announcements and the Headmaster's email, I felt compelled to write to you, our Year 11 parents, whose sons were building up to their GCSE examinations. I wish to commend the attitude and commitment of all our Year 11 pupils in what is a most unsettling time. I am certain that our Year 11 pupils will be feeling a wide range of emotions tonight. Please rest assured that we will continue to support and help them to come to terms with this evening's announcement.

At this stage, we cannot confirm how qualifications will be determined based on the information we have at present. However, we will keep you updated as and when we receive any further guidance from the Government.

After hearing the news, I contacted my brother, also a teacher, who was quick to remind me that "You don't learn to pass an exam you learn to learn. No-one can take learning away from you!"

Please rest assured that we continue to have your son's best interests at heart, both for now and for the future.

Best wishes,

Peter
